FEARS SPARKED BY FIRM'S MOVE

BASINGSTOKE'S economy is set to receive a "massive body blow" after one of the town's major employers announced plans to relocate 600 staff.

Energy firm SSE will move from its offices in Winchester Road to a new building in Reading late next year as it looks to create a "new central hub" for its operations.

By Christian Wilson

No redundancies are being made, but Basingstoke and Deane borough councillor Mike Westbrook feels problems caused by commuting could force workers to leave.

"It's unacceptable because you've got mums who live locally and drop their kids off to school before heading to work," said Cllr Westbrook.

"But that won't be able to happen now, which will put people under pressure to leave and try and find a job closer to home."

Basingstoke Labour group's deputy leader also warned that the relocation to the site in Forbury Place in Reading could harm the town's chances of attracting other big businesses and employers.

He said: "We're building for the future with Manydown and Basing View and this will send the wrong message and could turn other businesses away which will hurt our economy."

"And then there's the knock on effect it could have to the Top of Town, which will be massive."

Drug-gang seven jailed

• (From left) Claran Boyle, Joshua Taylor, Luke Woolford, Nathan Mullings and Paul Liddle were among the nine sentenced for their involvement with the drug gang in Basingstoke

A BASINGSTOKE drug gang found guilty of "bringing misery" to the community was sentenced to a combined total of 31 years in prison last week.

The group of nine appeared at Winchester Crown Court on Friday to discover their punishments after being found guilty of supplying heroin and cocaine in the area for almost a year.

Each suspect was tracked down and arrested for distributing the class-A drugs as part of the so-called CJ and James networks following a police raid at an address in Abbey Road in Basingstoke last March.

The drug warrant helped lead officers to the chief member of the CJ network supply chain,

By Christian Wilsonchristian@observergroup.co.uk

Nathan Mullings, 25, of Wiloughby Way, who was sentenced to six years in jail for conspiracy to supply class-A drugs and money laundering.

Paul Liddle, 28, of Normanton Road in Oakridge, and Joshua Taylor, 24, from Popley, were also both sentenced to six years for conspiracy to supply class-A drugs, while Claran Boyle, 21, of Main Road in Winchester, and Luke Woolford, 30, from Popley, were given three-and-a-half years.

Judge Andrew Barnett also sentenced Solomon Bramble, 26, of no fixed abode, and Joel Elie, 25, of Shelley Close, to two years and eight months apiece for the same charge, while Jessica Thomas, 25, of Abbey Close (two years), and Leanne Cambiancia, 22, of Foxdown, Overton, (20 months), each had their sentences suspended for two years.

The court heard how the organisation had been selling the drugs to members of the community over a 10-month period between July, 2013, and May, 2014, before being discovered as part of Hampshire Constabulary's Operation Wedding investigation.

Detective Constable Jonathan Ramchurn, of the Northern Investigation Team, said: "These people are responsible for bringing misery to members of the Basingstoke community."

"We worked through all the information and evidence uncovered, and traced back to those involved in the supply chain as part of the CJ network; ultimately leading us to Nathan Mullings."

"These sentences should act as a stark warning to anyone who feels they can get involved in the supply of drugs in our town that they will be caught, and we will work tirelessly to put them before the courts regardless of whether they reside locally or outside of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight."

Move sparks worries

Programme Cllr Terri Reid was quick to express her disappointment at SSE's decision, but vowed that improvements to the town centre would not be harmed by the news of the firm's relocation.

"I can't say anything positive about this, but it's important now that we try and attract a business of similar standing to the site, if we can," said the council's deputy leader.

"Despite everything though, I'm very confident that we can keep improving the town centre, even without it."

Cllr Westbrook and Brookvale and Kings Furlong councillor Jack Cousens have responded to the news by writing an open letter to council leader Clive Sanders seeking clarification as to SSE's reasoning behind the move.

Cllr Cousens said: "This is a massive body blow for the town and shows that we aren't that desirable if major employers want to leave."

"We can't afford for a domino effect to take place and so we need to get these 600 jobs back somehow."

SSE's new base in Forbury Place in Reading will also accommodate about 1,300 staff from its offices in Reading and Thatcham.

SSE chief executive Alistair Phillips-Davies said: "This is

• An artist's impression of SSE's new base in Reading an excellent opportunity for us to bring together our staff from across the company in a new central hub from which to build further our business in this economically vital part of the UK."

News BitesAssault charges

BASINGSTOKE: An elderly woman from Basingstoke was one of two people charged after an assault on four police officers last week.

Margaret Reynaldo, 82, was arrested following the incident at her home in Whistler Close in Black Dam at about 10pm last Tuesday.

She was charged with two counts of assaulting a constable in the execution of their duty and will appear before Basingstoke Magistrates Court on Tuesday, September 29.

Jason Reynaldo, 49, of the same address, was also charged with three counts of assaulting an officer and will appear at the court on Tuesday, September 15.

Each of the officers affected suffered minor injuries, with one having to attend hospital for treatment to a hand injury.

2,000 are caught

HAMPSHIRE: An international road safety initiative conducted in Hampshire last month caught almost 2,000 people breaking the speed limit.

Roads policing officers and mobile or static police cameras detected a total of 1,938 vehicles, with 80 per cent of offences taking place on roads with a 30mph speed limit.

Hampshire Constabulary supported the Tipsof (European Traffic Police Network) campaign between Monday, August 17 and Sunday, August 23.

Idea for new authority is 'wonderful' chance

AN idea to create a large combined authority for Hampshire has been labelled as a "wonderful opportunity for change" by a borough councillor.

The move would see powers and funding devolved from central Government to the county council and the area's 11 borough and three unitary bodies.

Among those affected would be Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, which met last night after the Observer went to press to debate whether to take the proposal to the next stage.

Powers on education and transport could be inherited as part of the move, with member for Eastrop Cllr Gavin James calling for the borough council to back the proposal.

He said: "Carrying on as we are right now given the challenges faced by the cuts is not an option. I'm absolutely in favour of devolution, I've been calling for it for years and this will give us a wonderful opportunity for change. We've seen the problems caused to the buses and other services because the borough doesn't have a strong enough voice and this would help with that."

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

If the move went ahead, the 15 existing councils would continue to function as normal, but a new committee of their leaders would be handed control of the budget for services.

A letter had been drafted to Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government Greg Clark on the issue before last night's meeting, but could now be amended depending on the views raised by the full council.

But while a Government deadline for the submission of proposals has been set for this Friday, Brookvale and Kings Furlong councillor Jack Cousins has urged caution on making a rash decision on the matter.

"I'm certainly in favour of giving local people a say in what services they want, as it is local people that will feel the affects of it whether good or bad," said Cllr Cousins.

"Are we encouraged by the fact that the borough council might have more control on certain aspects? Yes, of course, but ultimately I'd urge caution because we need to make sure that it would actually be in our best interests and that we do a good job as a result."

• Liberal Democrat Cllr Gavin James (left) has given the idea his full support, while Labour's Cllr Jack Cousins was weary of the proposal

£2,000 stolen from elderly woman in centre theft

CCTV images have been released of a man and woman wanted by police in connection with the theft of more than £2,000 from an elderly woman in Basingstoke.

The 88-year-old victim was targeted as part of a distraction scam at Festival Place shopping centre at about midday last Thursday.

A total of £2,300 was stolen from the woman's bank account in a crime that saw the perpetrators first take note of her pin number during an ATM transaction and then steal her purse.

Cash and bankcards were also stolen from the victim's bag while the suspects distracted her and the cash was then withdrawn from her account.

The female suspect is described as being white and having shoulder-length blonde hair.

She was wearing frameless glasses, a denim shirt top and was carrying a black leather shoulder bag.

The man was white, with dark short hair and slight stubble, and was wearing a tight black V-neck top.

Patients to be urged to quit smoking

HAMPSHIRE Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT) has teamed up with GPs and health consultants Quit4Life to help patients stop smoking.

The partnership will see advisors encourage people to quit before they come into hospital for a planned treatment or operation in a bid to help their recovery.

Staff at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital received extra training in how to support smokers as part of the move, with Quit4Life experts available to be called upon to help patients.

Lead respiratory clinical nurse specialist Rachel Hardstaff said: "Emergency patients admitted into hospital find themselves suddenly in a non-smoking environment.

"It is our job to explain to patients about how smoking adds risks to their recovery and the on-going health benefits of continuing the abstinence once they are home."

The range of products to help people quit such as patches, gum and inhalers has also been increased on wards.

Quit4Life expert Julia Robson said: "We have a good success rate.

"It is especially pleasing when we see someone who has made the choice to improve their health by quitting smoking and come out of hospital with a new lease of life."

Couple robbed at gunpoint in alley

AN investigation has been launched after a masked man robbed a couple at gunpoint in Basingstoke on Saturday.

The man and woman were walking home along an alleyway connecting Shooters Way and Jefferson Road at about 2am when the unknown attacker confronted them.

He pulled out what appeared to be a handgun and pointed it at them, although police have yet to establish whether the weapon was genuine or a replica.

The victims, who are both aged in their early 20s, were forced to hand over two mobile phones, cash, a wallet and a black drawstring bag containing a hard drive and tobacco by the gunman.

Neither of the couple was assaulted or injured during the incident, although they are understood to have been left shaken by the robbery.

Detectives from Hampshire Constabulary are working with the victims to establish more details about what happened.

The police have assured local residents that the attack is being treated as an isolated incident.

Senior investigating officer Detective Inspector Tim Ireson said: "Officers would like to hear from anyone who may remember

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

seeing a man acting suspiciously in the area of Shooters Way, Jefferson Road and this alleyway at 2am on Saturday morning.

"We're following several lines of enquiry with additional patrols in the local community to identify the robber and his movements during the early hours of Saturday."

He added: "This is being treated as an isolated incident as there is no information to suggest any links to other known crimes or incidents."

The suspect was wearing a black balaclava and a grey hooded top.

He had the hood of the top pulled up in a bid to hide his identity during the attack.

Police have described the robber as being in his 20s, about 6 ft 2 ins tall and of a broad, muscular build.

Anyone with any information about the robbery is being asked to contact CID officers at Basingstoke police station by calling 101 as soon as possible, or by contacting the confidential Crimestoppers line anonymously on 0800 555111.

Three men face courier fraud charge

THREE men have been charged by police in connection with a number of recent frauds in Alton.

Hampshire Constabulary has received 11 reports of attempted courier fraud in the last two weeks - with elderly people particularly being targeted.

Victims were called by someone claiming to be a police officer, with the suspect then proceeding to try to persuade them to release banking information or hand over cash to a fake courier at their homes.

Lungangi Amani, 20, of Lloyd Baker Street in London, Rakeem Worthington, 20, of Provident Place, Marylebone, in Middlesex, and Abdullah Hajji, 20, of Flaxman Terrace in London were charged with conspiring to commit fraud by false representation.

The gang is due to appear at Winchester Crown Court on Wednesday, September 16.

Police warned residents not to disclose personal banking information over the phone, while also advising them to ask for the identification number of anyone calling them claiming to be an officer.

Det Con Ian Cullen said: "I would urge people to check and check again before talking to anyone on the phone about their personal banking. You will not usually be asked to disclose details of your PIN by anyone, so be on your guard."

Dad urges young people to get jab

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

WITH the start of university and college courses later this month, thousands of young people have begun planning for the next big chapter in their lives.

Whether it's buying textbooks, preparing to make new friends or moving out for the first time, they will be mapping out what they are going to do before that first day in continued education.

But Basingstoke great grandad Mike Olive is urging teenagers to add another item to that 'to do' list by getting vaccinated against meningitis. Former paramedic Mr Olive knows all about the devastating virus, having lost 21-year-old daughter Elizabeth to the illness while training to become a nurse 28 years ago.

And with injections now being offered by GPs to 17- and 18-year-olds as part of the Men-ACWY vaccination programme, the 78-year-old wants to get the message over.

"Meningitis is on the increase, but there seems to be some reluctance among younger generations to have vaccinations," he said.

• Mike Olive lost his daughter Elizabeth (pictured) to meningitis in 1989

"It's so important that if anyone is showing any of the symptoms that they get help and not just assume that they're OK."

Meningitis is a viral infection that mainly affects young people, with its symptoms of headaches, muscle pain and nausea often confused for lesser illnesses.

Elizabeth was found dead in her room in the nurse's quarters at Hillingdon Hospital on April 12, 1987, five days after she called in sick with what she thought was a migraine.

Mr Olive will be spreading awareness of meningitis at the Camrose Medical Centre stand at the Health Fair in Stratton Park this Saturday.

Mr Olive said: "Elizabeth always wanted to be a nurse and gave up her teenage life for it, but it was still taken away from her.

"We know now that she'd passed her exams with flying colours just weeks before that, and that's what still hurts me the most. It's so important that young people learn from what happened to her. Even if it is just one person, it will help show some meaning to her life."

Bus layby would avoid an 'inevitable' fatality

A FORMER mayor of Basingstoke and Deane has called for the reinstatement of a bus layby on a "dangerous" Chineham road.

Former borough councillor Martin Biermann has launched an online petition for the change in Thornhill Way after witnessing motorists switch lanes to overtake stationary buses.

The layby was removed in 2003 as part of works commissioned by Hampshire County Council to install a pedestrian island, with the council also set to start work on a zebra crossing next to Chineham Village Hall next month.

But Mr Biermann, who was ousted from his Chineham seat on Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council in May after 21 years, warned that a fatal accident was "inevitable".

He said: "I'm not trying to sound dramatic, but unless something is done soon, someone is going to get hurt. There's a lot of idiots on the roads who keep going the wrong side of the bollards to get around the bus and it's unacceptable."

"My fear is that there will be a serious accident and someone will be killed."

The 2012/13 mayor praised the decision to introduce a zebra crossing, but questioned why a layby could not be added as part of the project.

"It's dangerous and everyone in this area is united on this except the county council," added Mr Biermann.

"What if a cyclist is knocked over or a car is forced to mount a curb and hits a mother with a pram? It will cost more money, but you can't put a price on saving a life."

Chineham borough councillor Joyce Bowyer was also quick to lend her support to the campaign, although she acknowledged that the nearby pedestrian crossing might make any change difficult.

Cllr Bowyer said: "As a resident myself, I would like to see a layby put back and remove the danger with death it creates."

"Martin and I don't usually agree on much, but we definitely do on this - something needs to be done."

Councillor's Column

Cllr Keith Watts

Liberal Democrat Councillor for Whitchurch

'Up in arms' over bus move

FOR the second time recently, there has been uproar in the district over changes to bus routes without passengers having a chance to have a say.

In 2013, the routes in Basingstoke were changed at short notice, disrupting the lives of many people.

Councillors protested but Stagecoach said that they did not have to consult with anyone on how they ran their commercial services.

This is legally true because of a 1985 law privatising and deregulating buses, but is this how we expect important services to be run?

As well as commercial services, Stagecoach receives subsidies for running unprofitable buses. Basingstoke & Deane Council spends almost £700,000 a year of council taxpayers' money on bus subsidies. When Stagecoach came to a council committee last year, I told them that they were an important partner and for them to say "We don't have to consult you, so we won't" was no way to treat a partner.

This June, Stagecoach told us that in future it would work with the council to make sure that people affected by a service would have a say before changes were made.

As a Whitchurch councillor, I was surprised to find out later that changes were coming to bus routes in Whitchurch. People who are set to lose a bus service that they depend on are up in arms.

Last week, I met the new head of Stagecoach South and he told me that the company would work with councillors to convince us that the present arrangements for buses were best for everyone.

We will have to watch carefully to see how things go.

Dragons' Den theatre school opening in Newbury

After a successful appearance on BBC's Dragons' Den in January 2007, Razzamataz Theatre Schools have been opening all across the country and now it is the turn of Newbury.

When founder and director of Razzamataz Denise Hutton-Gosney appeared on the show, Duncan Bannatyne was quick to spot the huge potential of the part-time theatre schools business and offered the full investment. This has enabled the team to rapidly grow the company and turn Razzamataz into one of the top five part-time theatre schools in the UK, according to The Stage newspaper.

Since the Den, Hutton-Gosney and her dedicated team have been busy building up the Razzamataz brand. There are now almost 40 schools up and down the country and Debbi Ledwith, principal of Razzamataz in Newbury is delighted to bring Razzamataz's unique blend of performing arts to local children. "Nurturing young talent and building up a child's confidence and self-esteem is a big part of what we do at Razzamataz," said Debbi. "We teach the children a mix of commercial street dance and musical theatre so they get to experience the very best of what the performing arts has to offer." The classes consist of three hours of dance, drama and singing and the curriculum covers the whole of the performing arts, from classic West End musical theatre to commercial street dance and hip hop.

As well as classes run by a team of experienced teachers, Razzamataz also prides itself of being able to bring in top professionals in their field to work with their students to inspire them to be the very best they can be. Over the last few months, Razzamataz children up and down the country have enjoyed workshops led by Kylie Minogue's choreographer, Diversity and Zoo Nation, creators of Into the Hoods, the first hip hop musical in the West End and Razzamataz in Newbury is excited about the opportunity to offer local children the chance to work with artists with such credible industry experience.

"I am delighted to be bringing Razzamataz to Newbury. The whole team is passionate about what they do and the structure of the classes allow children to enjoy and learn about the whole spectrum of performing arts in a fun and stimulating environment. Razzamataz makes sure that it reflects the current trends that are accessible to children and teenagers so they never get bored."

As well as the obvious health benefits, participation in theatre arts has been shown to benefit children in many different areas as they acquire life and performance skills. Theatre trained individuals are identified as having transferable skills such as good interviewing technique - massively important for older children in the job market which additionally teaches self-discipline and the ability to work as a team.

Razzamataz in Newbury is launching on Saturday 12 September at Park House School, Andover Road, Newbury. RG14 6NQ. For a FREE trial session, simply call principal Debbi on 01635 905404 to secure your child's place.

Accident delays

NORTH HAMPSHIRE: Road users experienced long delays on the A34 in Hampshire last Wednesday after a lorry overturned and blocked the road.

Drivers had to be diverted after the road was completely closed southbound and one lane northbound between the A4 and A343.

The truck, which was carrying cosmetic products, shed its load across the carriageway at about 6.45am on Wednesday, with the road closed for about 12 hours.

The truck driver was treated for minor injuries at the scene. Police are investigating the cause of the accident.

Rail lines

BASINGSTOKE: A new train service running from Basingstoke has been given the green light by rail regulators to start from later this year.

South West Trains announced last week that two new daily direct services between Basingstoke, Woking and Clapham Junction would begin in December.

The move is part of an improvement to rail services in the West of England and in links to London.

Fancy dress fun

BASINGSTOKE: Staff at Hobbycraft's Basingstoke store in Winchester Road dressed as superheroes on Saturday to raise money for charity.

The workers and customers alike dressed up as Superman, Batman and Co and also made masks and cakes, with all the money raised going to the Sutton Scotney children's hospice Naomi House.

Bid for 130 homes adds to frenzy fear

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

MORE than 130 homes could be built in Bramley after Basingstoke and Deane's council received two separate planning applications.

The plans to build 82 houses on land south of The Street and 50 dwellings on a site near Sherfield Road have both been lodged to Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council.

The two proposed developments are a reaction to Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's emerging draft local plan, which requires the village in Tadley to accommodate at least 200 homes.

At least 33 of the homes built as part of the £8m project in The Street would be earmarked as 'affordable housing' if planning permission is granted, with developers Hollins Strategic Land (HSL) talking up the seven-acre site's location.

A HSL spokesman said: "This sustainable residential scheme would include homes of varying sizes, types and tenures that will help to contribute to the vibrancy and vitality of the village community and economy."

"The site is well located and has good access to existing community facilities and the local public transport network."

The £5m development in Sherfield Road would contain a mixture of two-, three- and four-bedroom houses, with project designers Richards Urban Design vowing that all types of residents would be catered for.

Architect Colin Richards said: "We believe that the design has been delivered with a strong vision and will reinforce the character of Bramley and the wider area, while providing for starter homes, families and the elderly."

Bramley and Sherfield borough councillors Chris Tomb-

• Bramley and Sherfield councillor Chris Tomblin has predicted a negative reaction from the public to the plans lin and Nicholas Robinson both questioned the developments and predicted they would not be popular with locals.

"We're like a rag to a bull for opportunist developers right now thanks to the uncertainty of not putting the local plan in place yet and the previous people in charge are to blame for that," said Cllr Tomblin. "It's sad to see, and I think the people of Bramley are going to be furious about these applications."

Cllr Robinson added: "We need these houses like a hole in the head."

"We seem to have a development frenzy right now, and you have to wonder if it'll ever end."

Decisions on both plans by the council's development control committee are due to be made by November 2.

Baby boy joy for mayoress

BASINGSTOKE and Deane's mayoress has introduced a new face to the borough, making history in the process.

Colette Court gave birth to son Alexander David on Saturday, August 15, to become the first town mayoress to have a baby during her year of office.

Alexander arrived at 8.15am, weighing 9lbs 10z, at Andover Birthing Centre, before being cared for at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital.

Mum-of-two Colette, who credited hypnobirthing antenatal classes for helping her, said: "We are really happy with the safe arrival of the newest addition to our family."

Proud grandmother Cllr Anne Court, the Basingstoke and Deane mayor, thanked medical staff for their care.

*It is estimated that approximately 2% of people over the age of 40 will have Glaucoma.

*Statistics obtained from The International Glaucoma Association.

What is an OCT scan?

This practice has invested in the very latest OCT scanning technology.

An Optical Coherence Tomography (OCT) scan is a unique test which uses near-infrared light reflected off the retina to produce a high resolution 3-Dimensional scan of the retina and associated structures.

It is particularly useful in the assessment of patients with AMD, Diabetic Maculopathy, early detection of Glaucoma and the management of these diseases. The test is non invasive, quick and entirely painless.

Am I at risk of Glaucoma?

Are you over 40?
Do you have a family history of Glaucoma?
Are you short sighted?
Do you have diabetes?
Are you of African-Caribbean origin?

If the answer is yes to any of these questions, then you are at an increased risk and should definitely have your eyes tested regularly.*

Why has this practice invested in OCT?

We believe this advanced imagery allows us to detect and monitor early stages of diseases and as this examination is not available under the NHS, we make an additional charge for this scan. Please ask for further details.

This assessment of your eyes using OCT Technology will give us the most accurate diagnosis possible and help us give you the best advice to protect your sight and the health of your eyes.

Your eyes deserve the benefits of cutting edge technology available at this practice.

touching hearts, changing lives

Part played by soldier in Great War uncovered

PRIVATE Roland Abbott from Aldermaston is one of the 44 men to be remembered on the new plaque.

During his research, David Whithorn managed to uncover details about Pte Abbott's role in the First World War.

- Aged 22, he arrived in France on December 8, 1915, with the 8th Battalion Devonshire Regiment.
- He started a long period of training behind lines with his regiment and only moved up to the frontline on March 4, 1916, at Becordel, just behind the German-held hilltop villages of Fricourt and Mametz.
- Pte Abbott's name was perhaps missed off the first memorial in Aldermaston because he enlisted in London.

- He was killed on July 1, 1916, during the worst day in the history of the British Army in the Battle of the Somme. On the same day, about 19,000 were killed and 35,000 wounded.
- Most fell in the first hour of the attack. A week-long artillery barrage had not destroyed enemy positions and the wire had not been cut in many places.

- It meant attacking British troops walking towards uncut wire and trained machine-gunners. On most of the 18 miles, there was a complete slaughter.
- In the 8th Devonshire Regiment, 40 were killed, 160 wounded and seven missing. By the standards of the day, the 8th Devonshire had been both successful and got off lightly as regarding casualties.

- Pte Abbott is buried at Devonshire Cemetery, close to Mametz.

'Forgotten' fallen to be honoured

"I CAN'T bring these soldiers back to life but we can tell their story," an Aldermaston historian vowed.

During a research project, David Whithorn discovered that 16 Aldermaston and Wasing soldiers who died in the First World War were not named on their local memorials.

And so to mark 100 years since six of them perished in the Battle of Loos, a new plaque of all 44 soldiers is to be unveiled on September 21 at St Mary's Church in Aldermaston.

Historian Mr Whithorn, who works at Aldermaston's Atomic Weapons Establishment, will also be passing over a folder of information gathered about the soldiers to be kept in the church.

The 56-year-old said: "They had been just names read out each year but it wasn't known who those men were."

"It is fantastic finding the 16. I can't bring these soldiers back to life but we can tell their story."

Mr Whithorn launched the project in May and while compiling the data discovered that a group of six died on September 21, 1915, in the Battle of Loos in France.

"Tragically it was a battle that went very badly wrong. It was the first time the British Army used gas in battle and we gassed a lot of our own men," he said.

"We can't say if they all died from gas because there was a lot of machine gun fire as well, but it is important that we remember them now."

The plaque was partly designed by children from Aldermaston Church of England Primary School.

Before the summer holidays, Mr Whithorn visited the school dressed in the uniform of a 1915 soldier on their last day of term, July 17.

The 11-year-olds were taught about the war and hand-wrote the names of the 44 men.

The hand-written names were

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

then digitised and inscribed on the plaque.

AWE spokesman Catherine Lynagh said: "They split the 44 names among the class so they had almost two names per child. "They practised writing them numerous times so they were definitely right for the plaque."

The memorial includes several sets of brothers and two Canadian soldiers who were born in Aldermaston.

Canadian diplomats, schoolchildren, Royal British Legion representatives and West Berkshire Council members will be attending the plaque's unveiling at 11am.

Diabetes appeal

BASINGTOKE: Charity Diabetes UK has appealed to people from Basingstoke to come for ward and become a 'Healthy Lifestyle' volunteer.

The volunteers will be responsible for raising awareness of diabetes and organising and speaking at community events to promote the importance of adopting a healthy way of life to prevent or delay Type 2 diabetes.

South East regional manager Jill Stealon said: "The Healthy Lifestyle volunteer role in Basingstoke is an exciting opportunity to make a difference to the health of the community by encouraging the public to reduce their risk of developing Type 2 diabetes and live healthier, longer lives."

Driver workshop

HAMPSHIRE: Motorists aged 60-plus from across Hampshire have been invited to attend a workshop later this month.

The Drivers Skills Scheme 60 Plus event will show people how to stay safe and independent on the roads, while raising awareness of the Highway Code and Driving Licence regulations.

The Hampshire County Council-run workshop will take place on Friday, September 25, at The Fairground in Andover.

Executive member for economy transport and environment, councillor Sean Woodward, said: "These workshops can be of great benefit, not only to older drivers, but to their passengers and other road users as well."

Taking plunge

BASINGTOKE: A Basingstoke community association trustee will do a skydive later this month for charity.

Dave Pink, who is a volunteer for Viabes Community Centre in Harrow Way, will take the tandem jump from 10,000ft on Thursday, September 17, over Old Sarum Airfield in Salisbury.

He will donate all the money he raises to The Viabes Memory Club, which helps people in the area with dementia.

To sponsor Dave ahead of his skydive, text VCAB15 plus the amount you wish to donate to 70070.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Fastfit Service Centre is located at Unit One, Moniton Trading Estate in West Ham Lane.

And the independent automotive specialist is proud to be expanding in a bid to give its customers exactly what they want. "Everything your car needs is here under one roof", explained manager Byron Lewis who, like his team of experts, has spent a lifetime in the automotive industry.

He added: At Fastfit we offer hourly rates which are some of the best in Basingstoke. No job is beyond us and we are quite simply a one-stop shop and more besides. Whether it's an entire engine overhaul or just tweaking the brakes, we will do it, and do it well."

The business is continually expanding and includes a new mobile tyre fitting and home start service. A comprehensive diagnostic service can also be provided and the business issues many dealer level tools ranging from Ford, Jaguar to Land Rover and Volkswagen.

Fastfit offers everything from MOTs and minor servicing to major repairs and complex engine work.

More complex issues include an Engine Control Unit (ECU) remapping service which makes the vehicle more responsive and smoother to drive. In these tough time, it also slightly increases the miles-per-gallon!

Fastfit Service Centre also stocks a range of budget or performance tyres and it can also custom build stainless steel exhaust systems.

"Come and give us a try. You won't be disappointed," concluded Byron.

What our customers think

Mycar had been taken to three different repair centres which was suffering from low power none of them diagnosed the problem. I took it to these guys for a remap and full exhaust in the hopes it would fix it. It was better but Byron still thought it wasn't right so spent another couple of hours diagnosing it!

He didn't charge me extra and even finished after they should of closed. You just don't get that kind of service these days. Amazing!
Cheers, Clive Baldwin

Excellent service! Very polite and great value for money prices! I will recommend to friends and family. If you need your car repaired at the right price don't look any further.

Great service from the whole of the Fast Fit team. They know what they are talking about and are happy to help with any query.

I wanted something activated on my car that had not been done at the factory. A dealer wanted upwards of £100 to do the job, I contacted Fast Fit and they have the same Dealer Software. Done the job quick and for a third of the price! These guys definitely know what they're talking about and I would recommend them to anyone!

Jethro Tull rock opera launches Anvil season

WITH the summer holidays over, The Anvil's new season of entertainment is up and running.

The new programme kicks off with the arrival of Jethro Tull's lead singer Ian Anderson, who will celebrate the life of the English agricultural inventor Jethro Tull on Tuesday, September 8, with 'Jethro Tull - The Rock Opera.'

The show will be making its world premiere at the Churchill Way venue before it visits countries including Russia, Italy, Spain, Turkey and the United States throughout the autumn.

The 68-year-old from Dunfermline revealed why he chose Basingstoke as the venue for the first show.

"Not only was The Anvil available, but we could also book a couple of production rehearsal days before the show to get everything running smoothly," Ian said. "Also, Basingstoke is reasonably convenient for all of us in terms of both travel and curry houses."

The musician, who plays flute and acoustic guitar, became a household name during the 1960s and 1970s when he was the lead singer of progressive rock group Jethro Tull.

Following the release of its debut album 'This Was' in 1968, the group's popularity across the UK and US exploded, seeing it achieve major success in both countries.

Out of the 21 albums the group released, 12 of them peaked in the US top-20 album charts with 'This is a Brick' (1972) and 'A Passion Play' (1973) taking the number one spot.

In the UK, Jethro Tull achieved similar success with 13 of its albums peaking in the UK top-20 album charts, with its second collection of songs, 'Stand Up' (1969) hitting the top spot.

However, after 16 gold certificated studio albums and four gold certificated live albums produced by more than 30 different musicians, Ian confirmed last year that Jethro Tull was no more as a band.

"Our agent gave us the name in February of 1968," Ian revealed.

"We had had many names in the weeks before, really terrible names.

"Our agent was a history graduate. I wasn't and thought he had just made the name up. How embarrassing was that?"

He added: "In some ways, the job of the entertainer is to confound, expectations can deliver a few surprises.

"So, what will they be on the night? Not surprises, if I tell you! But no one gets naked and no animals or small children are hurt during the performance."

Born in 1674, Jethro Tull became one of the most important inventors of the 17th and 18th centuries through his inventions of the horse-drawn seed drill in 1701 and the horse-drawn hoe.

The show will begin at 7.30pm and tickets will cost from £29 to £33.

Smoke N'Fire gear up to set Irish Centre ablaze with gig

A FIVE-PIECE covers group will be performing some of the world's best blues, rock and pop numbers at Basingstoke's Irish Centre later this month.

Formed in the summer of 2011, the Basingstoke-based band Smoke N' Fire will cover tracks from the likes of Blondie, Michael Jackson, Van Morrison, Bon Jovi and Bruno Mars in an evening at the Council Road venue on Saturday, September 26.

With a diverse repertoire of songs from different genres to perform, lead singer David Barry believes this is one of the reasons why the group has proved so popular in the town.

"The feeling that you get when everyone is 'singing' the chorus or shaking what their mother gave them is why we do it," David told the Observer.

"We have played the Irish Centre three times already this year. We're going to be at the Irish Centre on September 26 for an open gig.

"And the audience can expect lots of great sing-a-longs and classic dancing numbers."

Consisting of Victoria 'Tora' Barry on vocals, Steve Lake (guitars and vocals), David Barry (vocals, percussion and 'general mayhem'), Big Dan Martin on the five-string bass and Ben "Ninja Drummer" Kennedy on the drums, the fivesome has gained a reputation of producing high-energy shows.

However, despite their love of performing being evident when they play at pubs, clubs and bars across Basingstoke, David described the group as 'weekend warriors', having to balance their musical endeavours with their day jobs.

But this doesn't seem to bother the singer though as he gears up for another visit to the Irish Centre.

"The band was started by myself, Steve and John Noakes who has since moved on," he explained.

"Tora joined within a couple of weeks, Dan became our bass player some 18 months ago and Ben joined us a year ago.

"And we are all weekend warriors as Steve is an accountant, Tora is a manager for SSE, I'm a manager for a solar company called Everest/Zanussi, Dan is at university and Ben works at the Anvil."

The free event starts at 9pm.

Badgers' set

MARK THOMAS-TRESPASS

Trespass carries on from where Mark's previous show 100 Acts of Minor Disobedience left off. It is his usual odd mix of theatre, stand up, a dash of journalism, activism and a dollop of mayhem.

Mark asks the question: If the ramblers of the 1930s were here now what would they do to open up the cities? How do we turn the skyscrapers and corporate squares into our playgrounds? He sets out to try and carve a small space in the urban world where mischief and random chance can lurk. No one knows where this show is going to end up so join him on the journey.

LUKE JERMA

is the most incredible man you've probably never heard of. He can read your mind. No really; he can read your mind. He doesn't use mind games or psychological tricks; there are no smoke and mirrors. He can simply read your mind. Jermy's Sixth Sense has gained critical acclaim with five Star reviews from Edinburgh to London's West End. You'll be amazed at Jermy's incredible powers; he knows your past, present and future, sometimes better than you do. From your favourite school teacher, childhood pet and even the colour of your underwear, Jermy impossibly knows all, sees all and tells (almost) all in an expert display of telepathy and personal predictions about your future developed to amazing razor-sharp accuracy.

Galleon Marine

The place to have fun on the water!

Some people are unaware that the beautiful Basingstoke Canal runs through Odiham, not more than 1/2km from the high street!

Many local people are involved in the preservation of the canal to ensure it remains a great place to visit.

Galleon Marine, which is under new ownership, is a perfect base from which to explore by narrowboat, rowboat, kayak, canoe or foot. Please feel free to come and look around, have a picnic in our colourful garden and enjoy the view. We are opposite the Waterwitch Pub.

Tea and coffee now available from our canal-side kiosk.

We look forward to meeting you.

Vantage GT12 leads the way

ASTON Martin Works is preparing for a busy September of new sports car sales handovers, led by its first delivery of the sold-out Vantage GT12.

The arrival of the '65' registration plate will trigger the September sales spike, as eager buyers of the British brand's luxury sports cars take delivery of their new models.

By James Richings

The Milton Keynes business, which is among the busiest Aston Martin dealerships in the world since it opened its new car showroom three years ago, is gearing up for one of its most hectic months of the year as buyers from across the UK collect their new cars.

Leading the charge from the Buckinghamshire showroom this September is the arrival of one of the first new Vantage GT12 sports cars to be handed over to a UK customer.

With production strictly limited to just 100 cars, the Vantage GT12 special edition draws on all of the brand's learning from years of top level motorsport competition around the globe.

It is equipped with a new iteration of the Aston Martin 6.0-litre V12 engine and is capable of generating up to 600 HP making it not only more powerful but also 100kg lighter than a standard V12 Vantage S. Significantly restyled, as well as re-engineered, the motorsport-inspired road car is lower and wider than any of its Vantage siblings and boasts cutting edge motorsport-inspired features such as the extensive use of carbon fibre inside, as well as a track-focused aerodynamics pack which includes a prominent rear wing and pronounced front splitter.

This new GT3-derived Vantage has been designed and engineered exclusively at Aston Martin's Gaydon Headquarters in Warwickshire, to be the most overt expression of everything that defines Vantage: an inspirational sports model offering supreme drivability on the road, and uncompromising dynamic performance on track.

"September remains a hugely busy period for us," Aston Martin Works Commercial Director Paul Spires said.

He continued: "And with the added anticipation around deliveries of the brand's most sought-after models such as the now sold-out Vantage GT12, we are set for a hectic but very positive few weeks."

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Odiham's golden girl Danson wins Euros

HOCKEY star Alex Danson described England women's European championship win on Sunday as one of her proudest sporting moments.

England made a thrilling comeback from 2-0 down against the Netherlands before going on to win the EuroHockey Championships for the first time in 24 years in a high-pressure penalty shoot-out at London's Olympic Park.

Odiham forward Danson was second up in the shoot-out for England, and she made no mistake with her effort as she powered the ball home on the stretch behind the keeper's back foot to send her side on their way to an historic 3-1 win.

The 30-year-old's string of stellar performances ensured that she was named player of the tournament, with Danson dedicating the accolade to her teammates.

She told the Observer: "It's amazing to have that medal round my neck, and is a bit of a dream come true."

sporting moments.

"We got in their heads a little bit and the crowd was like another player."

"That was a big shock, there have been some fantastic players here and I would give that to a number of my team - it's for all the girls really."

England did not make the win easy for themselves, as after a stalemate in the first half, Netherlands' Caia Van Maasakker scored twice within three minutes from penalty corners to put the reigning world champions in control.

But for some great goalkeeping from Maddie Hinch, that saw her save 22 shots in the England net, they could've found themselves cut adrift in the tie.

And with just eight minutes of the final quarter remaining, the home side dug deep to pull one back, as Sophie Bray fished a rebound out of the keeper's pads from a penalty corner before lobbing the ball into the net.

Just a few minutes later England levelled from another penalty corner - this time Lily Owsley providing the vital final touch to take the game to a title-deciding shoot-out.

Captain Kate Richardson-Walsh added: "With that 15 minutes left we literally had two chances and we took them. "The Olympics was amazing, it's a big show certainly, but Europe is so strong in hockey and to win on our home turf is incredible."

She continued: "I've been playing for 17 years and for so long I have dreamt about standing on top of that podium."

Town players 'good enough to do it again'

JASON Bristow has called on his players to put the start of the season behind them and show the qualities that saw Basingstoke Town finish in third position last season.

Two defeats over the bank holiday weekend to Hayes and Yeading and Gosport Borough have ensured that Town have picked up just three points from seven games so far.

But having kept nearly all of last year's play-off squad together this term, Dragons boss Bristow was adamant that he has the talent at his disposal capable of turning things around.

He said: "It's the same players, so there's no reason to think we shouldn't be good enough to do it again."

"There's some games when we're beating ourselves, but we're not silly enough to expect teams to come here and roll over for us - we have to work even harder just to get to the level where we were at last year.

"Other teams around us have improved, but we haven't got to that level yet."

"The longer we go on without a win, the harder it is getting to keep them believing, but we've just got to keep on going."

Monday's 1-0 loss to Gosport was Basingstoke's third game in a row without a goal, but Bristow refused to be too critical of his forwards.

"It feels like everything we're hitting is getting blocked and we're not getting the rub of the green at the moment," he said. "But we can't make excuses, and have to make the tide turn ourselves."

"We can say that we're unlucky, but the bottom line is we've lost again and that has to change."

Rose recovers

GOLF: North Hampshire golfer Justin Rose claimed a share of 16th place at the FedEx Cup play-offs opener The Barclays over the weekend.

Rose finished with a five under par score at the Plainfield Country Club in New Jersey after recovering from a shocking start.

The world number five carded an awful round of 77 (+7) on the opening day - a score that was only better than five other players.

But the 35-year-old recovered over the next two days to climb back up the leaderboard after finishing with scores of 65 (-5) and 63 (-7) respectively.

And a level par 70 round on the final day ensured that Rose salvaged something from what had looked destined to be an embarrassing showing.

Foster returns

MOTORSPORT: Odiham racer Nick Foster will make a one-off return to the British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) series this weekend at Rockingham.

The experienced driver will join Hook's Rob Collard on the West Surrey Racing (WSR) team after regular driver Andy Priaulx was forced to miss the event due to scheduled GT commitments with BMW.

Foster beat 16 other drivers to fill in for WSR, after previously helping the BMW 125i M Sport outfit secure the teams' and independent teams' titles in 2014.

He said: "I can't wait to work with our championship winning team again and look forward to seeing many familiar faces and old friends in the BTCC paddock."

Bounty men win

CRICKET: Basingstoke and North Hants ended their Southern League Division One campaign with a win to move up to third place in the table on Saturday.

The Bounty men overcame bottom club Calmore Sports by 90 runs, with Richard Vinn's 44 helping them finish on 180-9.

Chris Chandler (3-7) then helped Basingstoke dispatch Calmore for 90 runs to end the season on a high.

Elsewhere, Hartley Wintney weren't able to secure the great escape as their 98 run defeat to Andover ensured that they were relegated.

And rain denied Hook and Newnham Basics a win, as their match with Totton and Eling was abandoned 13 overs in.

LATE SUCKER PUNCH CONDEMNS DRAGONS

BASINGSTOKE Town's nightmare start to the season continued on bank holiday Monday as two defeats in three days ensured that they slipped into the relegation zone.

The Dragons have now gone seven matches without a win in the National League South after a goal conceded three minutes from time condemned them to a 1-0 home loss to Gosport Borough.

Defeat crowned another bad few days for the promotion hopefuls after they were also emphatically beaten 3-0 at Hayes and Yeading on Saturday. Manager Jason Bristow looked to have got his players fired up for the visit of unbeaten high-fliers Gosport after that lacklustre display though, as midfielder Simon Dunn blazed over a great opportunity when well positioned after five minutes.

It wasn't to be the only chance of an end to end first half however, as Gosport's Jamie White overran the ball following a short back pass from Town captain David Ray, before the forward then crashed an effort against the post soon after.

Defender Jay Gasson sliced an effort narrowly wide in response, before last season's top scorer Chris Flood forced a top save from Nathan Ashmore on 39 minutes after cutting in from the right.

The Gosport stopper managed to better that stop on the hour mark as he somehow managed to claw Louie Soares' goal bound drive over the bar when it looked destined for the top corner.

Basingstoke began to take control of the game at this stage, and defender Matt Partridge was left with his head in his hands after seeing two efforts hoofed off the line.

Gosport forward Justin Bennett then missed two glorious opportunities to find the net, before Ryan Woodford's towering header on 87 minutes handed the visitors the lead to leave Town fans wondering how they hadn't at least claimed a point.

There could be no disputing the result 48 hours earlier however, as two early goals from Elliott Benyon and Jake Nicholson ensured that the Dragons were left with an uphill task at Hayes and Yeading.

And a goal midway through the second half by striker Alex Osborn helped seal a dispiriting loss on their travels.

Basingstoke currently sit third from bottom in the league standings ahead of Saturday's trip to sixth-placed Hemel Hempstead Town.
